COL. WM. MITCHELL RESIGNS FROM THE ARMY

TO BE EFFECTIVE
FEB. 1, NOW UP TO THE PRESIDENT

COOLIDGE MUST MAKE FINAL DECISION TO ACCEPT OR REJECT RESIGNATION

FIERY AIR COLONEL REFUSES TO COMMENT ON HIS CASE

By WILLIAM J. McEVROY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Jan. 27. — Colonel William Mitchell today submitted his resignation from the army, effective Feb. 1.

The resignation was sent in the mails to the adjutant general of the army through the office of General Rickenbach, commander of the District of Washington. His action brings to an end a career of 28 years in the army and follows his conviction for five years' suspension for critical attacks on the administration of the national defense.

President Coolidge must make the final decision to accept or reject Mitchell's resignation.

After submitting his resignation, Mitchell continued to refuse comment on his case and Rep. Reid, Illinois, who represented Mitchell at the court martial, also declined to discuss the case.

Announcement of the resignation was made at Reid's office in the House office building.

Mitchell was not present, having decided to spend the morning at his home.

The flying general, who rose to a generalship in command of the aerial forces of the American Expeditionary Forces in France during the war, now plans to take his case to the people through lectures and writing and later in the summer to visit Africa for a big game tour.

His resignation frees him from the restraint which continued service in the army under the sentence of five years' suspension imposed by President Coolidge would have placed him. Almost immediately he is expected to re-open his campaign for a unified air service in testimony before the House military affairs committee.

For nearly five years Mitchell has been a storm center of the aviation controversy that came to a culmination in the investigation of the aerial strength of the United States by the Morrow board appointed by the president and Mitchell's own court martial for breaching discipline by issuing statements critical of his superiors.

Upon his return from service in France, for which he was awarded more medals than almost any other officer in the army except Gen. Pershing, he was appointed as assistant chief of the army air service, in which post he served for four years and finally was "demoted."

During all this time he waged a vigorous campaign for increased recognition of the importance of aviation in modern warfare and advocated drastic changes in war and navy department policy toward its air service.

He advocated at all times a unified air service embracing the air forces of the army and navy and such other services, such as the post office department as maintained airplanes.

On September 5 and 9, Mitchell issued statements in San Antonio condemning the war and navy departments for "incompetence, criminal negligence, and almost treasonable administration of the national defense." The high command of the army could no longer follow its policy of coolly ignoring Mitchell and orders were issued by the president for his court martial for violation of the 96th article of war. His trial opened on Oct. 23 and on Dec. 16, after weeks of sensational hearings, Mitchell was found guilty and sentenced to five years' suspension of rank, pay and command. On Jan. 25, President Coolidge approved the conviction but allowed him half pay.

The resignation which gives no reason for the action, places the legal branch of the army in a quandary as to what action can be taken. It is pointed out that resignations presented under similar circumstances have contained the clause "for the good of the service."

With Mitchell already under a five year suspension sentence and with this sentence now against his record, however, it is believed probable that he will not be asked to present his reasons.

If it can be legally done, Secretary of War Davis probably will recommend that the president accept his resignation.

SEEK TO UNITE
CORN BELT ON FARM PROGRAM

REPRESENTATIVES OF 11 STATES
TO ASSEMBLE AT DES MOINES

TO PREPARE DEMANDS UPON
CONGRESS, AND GENERAL
CAMPAIGN

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 27. — (UP) — Seeking to unite the corn belt area on a program of agricultural relief, representatives of 11 states will assemble here tomorrow to prepare demands upon congress and to plan a follow-up campaign calculated to bring about the desired legislative aid.

Already the Iowa committee of 50 in charge of the meeting here, has outlined a program which will be presented to the entire conference for ratification.

Creation of a federal agricultural board and establishment of a government corporation to be administered by the board are the principal items in this program. This program is in line with the recommendations of Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, and Representative L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, champions of farm relief.

"We favor an export corporation to dispose of the surplus products of agriculture whenever necessary and offer the suggestion that the government set up a revolving fund as it did so successfully in the case of the federal land bank to finance the operation of the export corporation," stated the outline proposed by the All-Iowa agricultural marketing advisory committee appointed by Gov. John Hammill, "such a revolving fund to be repaid by an excise tax on the commodities benefited."

"We believe that it is essential that congress should provide at the earliest moment for a federal agricultural board whose services shall be dedicated to the job of helping to stabilize the farm business and put it on a money-making parity with other industries."

"We believe the federal agricultural board should administer the export corporation and should take steps to determine the cost of production of corn and other farm commodities in the several states. It should do every and all things in its power to enable the agricultural industry to speedily get on a money-making basis."

CANADIAN TIMBER
WOLF HAS STREAK
OF ODD HUMOR

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 27. — (UP) — If Little Red Riding Hood had met the Kaministiquia village timber wolf instead of the wicked monster in her Granny's home the bed time world would probably never have heard of her. This new type of forest marauder, living in the woods near the little village, seems to have humor and fun in his peculiar make-up.

Mrs. Richard Falschaw, while returning to her farm yesterday on a toboggan, drawn by a big German police dog, met the timber wolf on the road. The police dog gave chase but Mr. Wolf raced along the road always two jumps ahead. After a merry marathon the wolf jumped the ditch and the dog, in turning upon his mistress and the family provision, a friend wolf watched the confusion from a distance.

INSULL HAS DREAM OF A
SUPER POWER NET

BELIEVES ONE LARGE SYSTEM
TO STRETCH FROM GREAT LAKES TO GULF

ALSO FROM THE ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC OCEAN

Chicago, Jan. 27. — (UP) — One large power system stretching from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific will serve the nation some time in the future, Samuel Insull, "king of public utilities," told the Midwest Electrical conference, in convention here today. When that time comes, the railroads of the country will be running by electricity, he said.

"The trend of the times is towards concentration of production," he said. "It is inevitable that this must come. This is a business which is a natural monopoly. Eventually all electricity of a given area must be furnished by one concern."

The needs of the nation demand development of all water power available, Insull declared. He estimated the nation's water power at 55,000,000 horse power.

Insull gave the Mississippi valley as an example of concentration of production. He estimated the wealth of the valley at $137,000,000,000. He said it produced 53 per cent of our oil; 42 per cent of the lumber; 7 per cent of the cotton; 73 per cent of the corn and oats; 51 per cent of the wheat and rye and had 130,000 miles of steam operated railroads.

"These railroads use 93,000,000 tons of coal yearly," he said. "To electrify these roads would save 75,000,000 tons of coal a year."

CASHIER ADMITS
EMBEZZLEMENT
OF $100,000

GEORGE W. LORENCE WAS OFFICER
OF PEOPLE'S STATE
BANK, DULUTH

TO BE ARRAIGNED TODAY, ANXIOUS TO BE SENTENCED

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 27. — (UP) — George W. Lorence, cashier of the closed People's State Bank of Duluth is in the St. Louis county jail today after signing a confession that he embezzled more than $100,000 from 62 individuals and firms.

Lorence will be arraigned in municipal court today and indicated that he would ask the court to pass sentence within the week. "I want to get it over as soon as possible," he declared.

The defaulting cashier has been taking funds from the bank for a period covering three years, the amount unaccounted for during the past three months alone being $70,000.

Lorence invested this money in real estate, built his own home, bought an automobile and paid life insurance, he said.

In his confession, Lorence explained his system. When a customer made a deposit, an entry was made in the individual's deposit book and credited to his own account.

Bank examiners will be working on the accounts for ten days or more before a complete check is made, during which time the bank will be closed.

HISTORICAL EPITAPHS IN VOGUE AGAIN

St. Paul, Jan. 27. — (UP) — Historical epitaphs are coming back into vogue and greater detail or ornamentation is the tendency in monuments, according to T. E. Cassidy, Chicago, executive secretary of the Memorial Craftsmen of America.

"Bridges, arches and that sort of thing may be all right for memorials," Mr. Cassidy said, speaking at the 20th annual convention of the Memorial Craftsmen of Minnesota yesterday, "but they are pretty utilitarian and when utility comes in sentiment goes out. And if a memorial is not for sentiment it is not for anything."

Other speakers on yesterday's program were E. F. Flynn, assistant vice president and general counsel of the Great Northern railroad, and William Schoenrock, St. Paul, president of the association.

The sessions will end tomorrow night.

DEBT AGREEMENT
BETWEEN ITALY,
ENGLAND SIGNED

London, Jan. 27. — (UP) — The debt agreement between Italy and Great Britain covering Italy's obligations to the latter nation was signed today.

Count Volpin, the Italian finance minister, leaving the treasury at noon after the formalities, announced that Italy would make her first payment March 15 and that the terms of the agreement would be made known later in the day.

The United Press was reliably informed that Italy's fixed annuities will be $21,250,000, representing a concession on the part of Britain which originally held out for at least $22,000,000.

LINGERIE MAY
SEND MARSHALL
TO THE GALLOWS

SILVER SLIPPERS, DANCE SLIP
OF SHEER PINK SILK,
2 GARTERS

FRIVOLOUS CHIROPRACTOR MAY FACE ELECTRIC CHAIR

By ARTHUR F. DEGREVE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Philadelphia, Jan. 27. — A pair of silver slippers, a dance slip of sheer pink silk and two dainty, saten garters may send David L. Marshall, 42, frivolous chiropractor, to the electric chair for the murder of Miss Anna May Dietrich, choir singer and milliner.

As the once dapper slayer, now dejected and extremely nervous of the ordeal facing him, prepared for arraignment today before Magistrate Carney on a charge of murder, police methodically compiled facts which claim indicate Marshall killed his affinity while in a jealous rage.

The confessed slayer steadfastly maintained throughout yesterday that Miss Dietrich came to his office here, demanded that he give her $100 to pay for the new clothes she had just purchased and also insisted that he accompany her on a round of parties in the night clubs and cabarets here.

When he refused to give her money as well as denying to humor her "cabaret complex," Marshall said the milliner screamed and threatened to expose their intimate relations to his wife.

"She had to die. She was troublesome," Marshall said simply.

Police first became suspicious of the blackmail theory when Marshall said that in eight years he claims to have had intimate relations with the choir singer, he had given her but $65. They turned their steps toward the home of Mrs. Alexander Schuhl, a sister of the slain woman, where the chiropractor's story was repudiated practically in its entirety.

"Anna had a pair of silver slippers, a pretty pink slip and a new pair of garters that she bought to attend a party," said Mrs. Schuhl.

"How could Mr. Marshall have given her money from time to time to buy, as he says, pretty clothes and for her never to have had any?" Mrs. Schuhl asked. "Why, the poor girl made almost all the clothes she wore, working at night when she was reported to have been drinking and dancing in the night clubs. It's ridiculous."

Admitting frankly that Marshall's confession has not provided them with sufficient grounds to press a first degree murder charge against him, police are seeking to shatter the blackmail theory in an effort to show that the crime was not committed on the impulse of the moment as the chiropractor contends.

U. S. STEEL
CORP. DIVIDEND

New York, Jan. 27. — (UP) — Directors of the United States Steel Corporation today failed to make any increase in the corporation's dividend payments, declaring the regular $1.25 and the usual 50 cents extra dividends on the common stock.

On account of the record business being enjoyed by the corporation, Wall Street had hoped for a more generous payment. Earnings for the last quarter of 1925, as announced today were $42,280,465 against $30,762,231 in the final quarter of the previous year.

The surplus for dividends in this last quarter were $23,543,174 against $14,252,705 in the same quarter of 1924.

The surplus for dividends for the entire year of 1925 is equal to $12,822 a common share against $11.77 in 1924.

STRANGEST

DEATH LAST NIGHT OF MRS.
CASIMER BOINSKI,
AGE 37

DRUNKEN PARTY SEEMS TO HAVE ENDED IN A TRAGEDY

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 27. — Police today were attempting to piece together stories told in Milwaukee's strangest police case, the death last night of Mrs. Casimer Boinski, 37.

When the husband, Casimer Boinski, returned home from work last night he was met at the door by Leo Milosz, dazed with drink. The drunken man led him to a bed room where they found his wife, half on the bed and half on the floor.

The husband called her by name and tried to arouse her, but she did not answer—she was dead.

All but overcome by shock the husband tried to get an explanation from Milosz, a friend of the family. The mother of the dead woman, Mrs. Julius Virachow, then entered the room and she, like Milosz, stood by speechless. Around the bed stood several empty bottles, the contents of which had brought tragedy to the home.

A preliminary examination of the body by physicians indicated the woman died of alcoholism or alcoholic poisoning. Police declared they are convinced she was not attacked as there were no marks of violence. Milosz told police he had come to the home yesterday morning after some drinking and that the two women gave him money to buy more liquor. They drank heavily, he said, but he knew nothing more until awakened by the husband's knock at the door.

LINERS PERSIST

EFFORTS AT SEA

60 MEN ON DISABLED BRITISH
FREIGHTERS, CLARICE
AND ANTINCE

ALREADY TWO LIVES GIVEN IN THE WORK OF MERCY

New York, Jan. 27. — (UP) — Undaunted by previous failures officers and crews of two trans-Atlantic liners persisted today in their efforts to rescue some 60 men from the two disabled British freighters Claristan and Antince, which have fallen prey to the Atlantic storm.

Already two lives have been given in the work of mercy and six have been saved.

Today Capt. George Gried of the liner President Roosevelt will make a new attempt to take about thirty men from the Antince while the liner Bremen which has reached the Lorient and saved six of its 30 men will continue its efforts the radio reported.

In the meantime, liners continued to come into port here badly delayed and reporting the worst storms of recent months. The Leviathan and the Columbus are due today and tomorrow the Aquitania and the Franco are expected.

Rescue of six men from the Lorient was reported during the night, not long after the arrival of the Bremen alongside the disabled ship. The men were picked up from a lifeboat, but a rising wind prevented further rescues and the 24 remaining members of the crew spent most of the night clinging to the decks of their rolling, pitching ship.

The Antince was reported at 6 a. m. today with bulkheads smashed engines not working, all lights out and burning flares to keep the President Roosevelt, which was standing by, informed that the ship still was afloat.

New Drive Against

Druggists Bootlegging

Belvidere, Ill., Jan. 27. — (UP) — What is believed to be a new drive against Wisconsin and Illinois physicians and druggists in an effort to stop diverting of liquor and alcohol from legal into bootlegging channels was seen here by the revocation of a new list of permits issued to Sidney H. Vesco, local druggist.

The orders were for diverting of whiskey and alcohol from legal channels and for the sale of druggists and physicians of their prescription books.

"The senate sat today but no public business of importance was transacted."

House:
Secretary of navy instructed to inquire into and report to house if construction of breakwater at capes of Delaware for protection of merchant ships would at same time strengthen the country's defense.

Began consideration of bill to appropriate $705,000 for maintenance of 10 ports on Atlantic coast and on the Mississippi river.

Washington, Jan. 27. — The twenty reservations proposed by irreconcilables to American adherence to the world court, which remain to be acted on by the senate, are doomed to failure, and unless further delays are encountered, the United States will be as good as in the world court by night.

The Swanson resolution indorsed by the administration and its five reservations, sanctioned by pro-court supporters have already been approved by the senate in committee of the whole, two irreconcilable reservations have been turned down and 20 remained to be killed by the overwhelming court majority.

Although the whole procedure must be acted upon again when the resolution is finished in committee of the whole, irreconcilables generally do not intend to demand the second vote to which they are entitled.

This may thrust the resolution finally through the senate and clear the way for taking up the $350,000,000 tax reduction bill tomorrow.

Administration ranks are showing signs of a break, but it is too late to make any difference in the outcome. Two republican senators, Pine, Oklahoma, and Robinson, Indiana, have broken for the irreconcilable camp last week and one or two more may follow on the final ballot, but the court steam roller has such a complete majority that it cannot be stopped.

IRRECONCILABLES IN LAST STAND

Washington, Jan. 27. — Irreconcilables staged their last stand on the world court in the senate today, rallying around the Moses reservation which would prevent any judgments of the court from being "enforced by war under any name or in any form whatever."

Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, demanded adoption of the reservation to make the court a real instrument of peace to prevent war.

The reservation was assailed by Sen. Lenroot, acting republican floor leader who warned that its adoption would prevent this country from entering the court.

"If other nations entering this court wish to secure enforcements of judgments by force it's none of our business," Lenroot said.

"We are amply protected against our involvement by reservations already adopted."

"Adoption of this reservation would make this court a shield for wrong doing instead of a court for right."

Sen. Reed, Missouri, democrat, thereupon interposed:

"Then this is not a court for peace, but for war. Then you say peace."

WILLIAM LAWSON.

After forty-five years with the Northern Pacific, William Lawson, 70 years old, general foreman of the general office building in St. Paul, is celebrating the New Year by retiring under the road's pension plan. With him went the good wishes of seventy-five or more executives and employees of the Northern Pacific, each of whom signed a testimonial expressing appreciation of his faithful and efficient service. Lawson's first job with the road was unloading rails at St. Paul in the fall of 1880 for the line then under construction west. Through various positions he rose to head janitor of the general office building and then to general foreman, which position he has held for the past five years.

Among the signers of the testimonial were President Charles Donnelly, J. M. Hannaford, vice chairman of the board; Traffic Vice President J. G. Woodworth; Operating Vice President F. E. Williamson, R. W. Clark, assistant to the president; A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager, and a host of others. Lawson also was given a new five-tube radio set by his friends of the Northern Pacific.

U. S. PROBABLY IN THE WORLD COURT BY TONIGHT

if they want to fight over there among themselves, let them go ahead and fight."

Lenroot answered that if other nations wished enforcement of decisions of the court upon themselves, it would make no difference to this country.

Sen. Underwood, Alabama, democrat, said he regretted that even the five Swanson reservations were accepted. The issue is clear, he contended, that the United States should decide whether to enter an organization for peace or hold out for the old system of settling disputes by war.

"These would merely make it impossible for the nations of Europe to accept American entry into the court," he said.

The final debate upon the issue which is recognized as the most important step taken by this country since the arms conference limitation was enhanced by all the glamour of a momentous event. Distinguished personages of state and Washington society were present in the galleries and upon the floor. Every senator who could be present was in his seat.

Again Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was with two friends while senators frequently used her late husband's name in their arguments. Women were predominant in the galleries and their multi-colored hats lent brilliance to the drama. Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth in a scarlet scarf surveyed the scene through a lorgnette.

The Moses reservation is ridiculous, Sen. Pepper, Pennsylvania, republican, said, because it places this country in a position of attempting to stop war through a medium which could not possibly accomplish it.

"You will not advance a fraction of an inch toward peace if you could get the other nations of the earth to accept this reservation," Pepper said.

The Ku Klux Klan was again brought into the fight when Senator Stephens, Mississippi democrat, said he had a letter from the grand kleeagle of the Klan women in Mississippi, urging him to vote against the court.

Stephens, who is a court advocate, also brought the Ancient Order of Hibernians into the discussion.

"The Irish organization is opposed to the court because of its hatred of England."

"The Klan is opposed to the court because of its fear that there sits in a foreign city a great ruler who would destroy our nation and our Protestant religion."

"But there is no need to have any fear when we witness the amazing spectacle of a Ku Kluxer and an Irish Catholic sleeping together in the same bed."

In his maiden speech Sen. Sackett, Kentucky republican, pleaded that the senate should kill the Moses reservation and do nothing to emasculate the Swanson resolution.

Despite delay Sen. Lenroot, acting republican floor leader, at 3 P. M. announced he would attempt to keep the senate in session tonight until the court resolution is finally voted on so that the tax bill can be taken up tomorrow.

Lenroot said he expected a final vote by 8 P. M.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"A BIRD IN THE HAND IS WORTH TWO IN THE BUSH"

It all depends upon the bird.

The world owes some of its richest blessings to the man who sacrificed the bird they held in their hand for the better birds in the bush.

Washington was the richest man in America at the time of the Revolution. Prudence would have kept him out of the war and saved his property.

The love of liberty drove him to high adventure in which he staked his fortune and his life on the outcome of the fight for freedom. When he won, we all won.

Moses could have lived in Pharaoh's court in safety, but he preferred hardship with his own people to luxury with a loss of honor and self-respect.

Cyrus McCormick was growing as much grain as any man in his country but he dreamed of a better way to reap it and gave fifteen years to his dream. Today we are all better fed because of his persistent dreaming.

The Pilgrim Fathers could have made a good living in England or in Holland but their dream of freedom drove them to America and hardships.

In their adventure was laid the foundation of the world's greatest republic.

Jesus of Nazareth could have compromised with Rome, but he dreamed of a world redeemed from poverty, injustice and slavery and died for that dream. But his ideas persist.

Sometimes the bird we hold in our hand robs us of wonderful birds in the bush that we might possess. It is an old fallacy that the certain is preferable to the possible.

DIOCESE MEETING HELD AT ST. CLOUD

Twelve Delegates From Brainerd Church Attend Annual Convention

BISHOP BENNETT SPEAKS

Mrs. W. H. Gemmell on Program of Women's Auxiliary Meeting

The annual conference of the Episcopal church, diocese of Duluth, was opened on Tuesday morning at St. Cloud with a communion service conducted by the Rt. Rev. G. G. Bennett, bishop of this diocese, assisted by Rev. James Mills, rector of St. Paul's church at Duluth, and by Rev. Hans J. Wolner, formerly of the Brainerd church, now of Cloquet.

The meetings of the conference are being held at the St. John's church in St. Cloud. The feature of the morning meeting yesterday was the annual message of the bishop, and the organization of the convention.

In the evening the service was held at the church with members of the St. Cloud clergy joining with the clergy of the diocese in attending. The Rt. Rev. Wm. F. Faber, D. D., gave a most interesting address.

The luncheons of the delegates are being served by the Presbyterian ladies across the street from the Episcopal church at St. Cloud.

Twelve delegates are attending the sessions from the Brainerd church. Mrs. W. H. Gemmell is present and will address the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary, holding their meetings at the same time. R. R. Gould, Mrs. R. A. Beise, and Mrs. R. L. Gustafson returned to Brainerd last night, after attending the first day's sessions.

AMERICA, MONEY POWER OF WORLD SAYS CANADIAN

Duluth, Jan. 27. — (UP)—Washington and Monroe did not visualize the tremendous commercial development of the United States nor that America would become the money power of the world, when they advised this country to beware of foreign entanglements. Sir Henry Worth Thornton, president of the National Canadian railways told the Duluth Chamber of Commerce open forum meeting at noon today.

The banking powers of the United States are investing huge surpluses abroad and that almost every community in the United States has some export interest makes it incumbent upon every citizen to take definite interest in international affairs, he said.

Sir Henry pledged support of the Canadian National railways and "lie roads to the development of the arrowhead country."

MINERS AGAIN DEADLOCKED WITH OPERATORS

WAGE COMMITTEE HARD COAL MINERS TO MEET AGAIN

ARE UNDAUNTED BY OPERATORS' REFUSAL OF LYNETT PLAN

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—As hopelessly deadlocked as they were when the strike began five months ago, the wage committees of the anthracite coal operators and miners will meet again today to discuss means of ending the strike.

Undaunted by the operators' refusal to accept the plan of E. J. Lynett, publisher of the Scranton (Pa.) Times, at the opening session of the reconvened conference yesterday, mine leaders still feel that it can be considered as a basis of negotiations. It was learned from reliable sources today.

The Lynett plan, of course, is still an "uncut diamond," said a spokesman for the miners. "We feel that from it there may arise a basis of negotiations. We are not disappointed. We predicted that the plan would have to be changed somewhat. We only hope that the operators do not insist upon arbitration for then the deadlock never will be broken."

It is with this viewpoint that the miners' representatives enter future discussions.

Whether the operators will consider any phase of the publisher's plan as a basis for future negotiations is problematical.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1926

ROAD BUILDING IN 1925

Road building in 1925 has broken all former records made in the United States, according to figures compiled by the Portland Cement Association of Chicago.

Motorists will have about 5,900 more miles of concrete road to travel over during 1926 than they had in 1925. Added to the 31,700 miles built in previous years, there are now approximately 37,600 miles of concrete on the highways in the United States outside the limits of incorporated cities and villages.

The building of 5,900 miles of concrete highway in a single year establishes a new record and along with the improvement of many other miles of gravel and grading was no small job for the road builders. It involves the use of tremendous quantities of materials and the employment of a great army of workers.

A feature of the past year's highway construction activities was the efforts of the road builders to inconvenience the motorists as little as possible. In every way the policies of the State Highway Departments were to serve the highway user.

More attention was paid to detours around construction jobs. They were kept in good condition and were carefully marked so that the motorist could reach his destination with the least inconvenience. Jobs were awarded during the winter to allow the contractor to get his materials on the job before construction could start so that the road would be made, available for travel as soon as possible.

Much highway widening was undertaken. Every state in the Union contributed to the new mileage of improved roads. Pennsylvania led them all without about 1,100 miles of new pavement of which about 715 miles were concrete. Illinois lived up to her reputation of being a leader in highway development by completing about 850 miles of concrete.

Due to the unwarranted spirit of economy shown by the voters in restricting extension work of our State Highway Department, Minnesota was away down the list in cement highways built. Its mileage in 1925 was only 94 miles. Illinois stood high man in the list with 857 miles, Pennsylvania next with 713 miles, New York 620, Michigan 432, Missouri 430 miles.

And in total mileage of concrete roads Minnesota is also away in the rear, for its whole record of accomplishment in this line of permanent roadways is only 614 miles. High man is Illinois with 4,962 miles, California next with 3,626 miles, Pennsylvania 3,420, New York 3,414, Wisconsin 2,074. Even Iowa, usually considered a stick-in-the-mud state like Missouri, has a total of 617 miles of concrete, three miles more than Minnesota.

The time is coming in Minnesota, and it's only just around the corner, when all trunk highways will have to be made of concrete in order to stand up under heavy traffic conditions. The change from gravel to concrete will in a way effect a saving, as there is decidedly less maintenance to a well built concrete road than a gravel highway.

Production of motor cars will not reach a saturation point for many years to come. The only relief road traffic will experience is when Henry Ford in a measure stirs up interest in aviation and makes a commercial air flivver which a modest purse may buy.

In line with motor car increased production will also come increased production of trucks. The automobile, the bus and the truck have carved their niche in American life and are due to stay in spite of what any I. C. C. may do.

SENATOR ROSENMEIER

SENATOR Chris Rosenmeier of Little Falls has filed for reelection to the state legislature representing the fifty-third district which comprises Crow Wing and Morrison counties.

The senator has made a good record in the legislature. He spoke at the community gathering of the Minnesota State Dairymen's association and made a very good impression. He has seen life on the farm and knows the trials of the farmer and the dairyman. In his talk he told of the success attained by the creameries and dairies of Crow Wing and Morrison counties. Morrison county, being longer established with its creameries, has almost three times the butter production of Crow Wing county.

The dairy cow can be made the mainstay of any community, and the senator showed conclusively that dairying properly conducted will make any community a prosperous one.

THE THING THAT STIRRED BABCOCK

THE St. Paul Sunday Pioneer Press tells what stirred C. M. Babcock to action and caused him to espouse the cause of good roads. Twenty years ago in Elk River, Babcock was a general storekeeper and he faced a crisis. Roads leading into town were virtually impassable and much outside trade was being lost. And other lines of business suffered, too.

Babcock exhorted his fellow business men to assist in improving the rough country trails. But only when business reached a complete standstill did he get any hearing. Decent weather found teams and men doing what now is considered a simple grading job.

Afterwards the roads were kept open all the year around and farmers drove to Elk River and the town prospered. The whole town and countryside saw the advantage of good roads.

Babcock became county commissioner, then a member of the highway board and in 1917 became Minnesota's first state commissioner of highways.

DOWN at Rochester they are having radio "interference." There is a "Tuesday noise" and a "Thursday noise" which origin cannot be established. Radio fans have a "detector" at work, but cannot find the source of the trouble. All the scientists and physicists living in Rochester, plus all the radio fans, are trying to untangle the difficulty. As a last resource they may even want to borrow our Everett McQuillin and his trouble finding machine.

MOWER county has quit giving its prisoners free board and room. It is exacting something in return for the accommodations at its county jail. By the sweat of their brow will prisoners in that county jail hereafter earn their bread. They are to be put to work on county roads. Ramsey, St. Louis and Hennepin counties are the other few counties of the state that make their prisoners labor in return for their keep.

HONK, HONK, I'M ON THE AIR
PULL OVER TO THE CURB!

"HONK, HONK, I'm on the air—pull over to the curb." This is the salutation which greets radio fans who listen in on WBBM, the Stewart-Warner station, when Nate Caldwell, the station announcer starts the program. Caldwell has an automobile horn which he honks to summon his radio listeners, the same as George D. Hay used his locomotive whistle for the "WLS Unlimited" when he was announcer for WLS.

"How's your speedometer?" asks the genial Nate. "All right? Then let's go," and the evening's radio entertainment of WBBM is on.

U. P. PROGRAMS
ARE ACCURATE

New York, Jan. 27.—(UP)—The Radio week committee calls attention to the fact that the United Press programs from Europe are accurate. Numerous programs have caused complications due to the fact that when they were sent from Europe they bore date a day later than the programs were to be heard in America. Wednesday Jan. 27 in Germany at 4 a. m. is Tuesday Jan. 26 before midnight in America.

FORMER KAISER
CELEBRATES HIS
67TH BIRTHDAY

Doorn, Jan. 27.—(UP)—The former German Kaiser Wilhelm celebrated today his 67th birthday without the expected presence of his son, ex-Crown Prince Wilhelm, a fact which gave rise to reports that the Dutch government at the last moment had prevented his return to Holland.

Such gossip as leaked out from behind the closely guarded portals of Haus Doorn pictured the former master of Germany as deeply disappointed and somewhat angered at the turn of affairs.

The re-union proposed for today was to have been the first since the ex-Crown Prince, fleeing his exile home on the island of Wieringen, sped across Holland and Germany to his great estate nestled in the foothills of Silesia.

The allies were reported imbued with the "spirit of Locarno" in the matter of his visit and were said to be interposing no objections today, however, speculation was current in the Doorn colony as to whether or not perhaps the allies at the last moment had seen political danger in communication between the exiled monarch and his son and had been impressed therewith.

Although the absence of Crown Prince dimmed the Kaiser's pleasure he was somewhat consoled at having with him Princess Hermine, his second wife and others of his family.

Amsterdam, Holland, Jan. 27.—(UP)—Reports were current here today following the non-arrival of the former German Crown Prince at Doorn for the ex-Kaiser's birthday celebration that he would arrive next month. No reasons were given for his absence.

HAUGEN BILL PASSED IN HOUSE

Washington, Jan. 27.—(UP)—The Haugen bill creating a division of co-operative marketing in the agriculture department was passed by the house yesterday.

The measure, only farm relief bill in congress to secure the endorsement of President Coolidge and hence regarded as his "farm relief program," now goes to the senate.

The new co-operative division is instructed to make surveys, investigations and acquire all possible facts concerning progress, organization and business methods of co-operative associations in the United States and foreign countries and to advise associations as to the best methods of operation.

Provision is also made for direct dissemination for farming information to farmers.

Tourists Narrowly Escape Death

Albert Lea, Minn.—Four members of the "Pine to Palm" tour narrowly escaped death yesterday when their car skidded into a ditch and turned over. They were J. Provencer, hotel owner, Thief River Falls; Theodore Christensen, mayor of Red Lake Falls; E. C. Busse, city clerk, Red Lake Falls; and Editor Matson of the Warren Sheaf, of Warren, Minn.

ONE WORLD RECORD BROKEN AT THE PAS

EMIL ST. GODDARD DRIVING HIS DOGS AT A FAST CLIP

IS CONFIDENT OF MAINTAINING HIS SLIGHT LEAD TODAY

The Pas, Man., Jan. 27.—(UP)—With one world's record for mushing already shattered, the five racing teams got away at 11 o'clock this morning on the second day's racing of the Great Northern Dog derby.

Emil St. Goddard, who drove his dogs for 25 miles yesterday at a faster clip than canines have ever traveled before is confident of adding to his lead today but Earl Brydges, who finished a few scant seconds behind, is confident that his team will pull out in front and stay there for the remainder of the race.

The race this year is developing into a race for sprinting dogs and the drivers are finding it hard to keep up with the terrific pace as the dogs whirl around the long circular track in a wild burst of speed.

Grayson took the lead for the first mile. On having trouble with his harness he allowed Olenky to pass, Grayson whirled in close behind the leading team. Moxley was in third position with Earl Brydges fourth and St. Goddard fifth. All the dogs look game and apparently feeling none the worse for yesterday's 32-mile grind. There is a stiff wind blowing and the drivers stated that the time might not equal that of yesterday.

At the end of the first lap St. Goddard was leading with Grayson, Brydges, Olenky and Moxley following in the order named. There was not four minutes difference in the time of the leader and the Moxley team.

Time for the lap was 33:30. St. Goddard won the second lap in 36:30. Brydges was second, Grayson third, Moxley fourth and Olenky fifth. Olenky changed his lead dog during this lap.

The teams finished the third lap in the following order: St. Goddard first, Brydges second, Moxley third, Grayson fourth and Olenky fifth. St. Goddard's time for the lap was 39 minutes.

COLLEGE AND PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 27.—Following the agitation started to build a wall between college and professional football that could not be scaled, officials of the college athletic associations reasoned that there were some things about college baseball worth deploring.

The activity or organized professional baseball in tempting boys to forsake the more sacred professions of letters or science for the professional diamond was worth deploring and it was deplored.

The result was that Commissioner Landis, who lords it over all professional baseball, will be asked to place the college diamond out of bounds for the professional scouts and leave the college boys alone.

If there were any thoughts in their minds that a painful situation would result, they were mistaken because the major league club owners surprised them with the sentiment—"We're for that too!"

The college campus has not been as productive of ball players as some of the college officials seem to think.

True, there are Eddie Collins, George Sisler and Frank Frisch who grew out of a college uniform but they are the exceptions and there are ten for everyone of them who proved a total loss to their purchasers.

Developing a young ball player is an expensive process. Major league club owners would prefer to pay $25,000 for a finished product of the minor leagues rather than to assume the expense and the worry of nursing a college player through several seasons of minor league preparation.

College players, when the market is good, can get a bonus of from $5,000 to $7,000 for signing a contract and they do not want to play in the minor leagues.

After finding that they haven't the experience to make good in fast company they retire from the game and the investment becomes a total loss.

Some managers like John McGraw and Connie Mack always have kept their eyes on the college diamonds as they were pioneers in a movement to improve the type of players engaged in the professional game.

But it was only in recent years that any general or concerted invasion was made on amateur classes.

There never will be a way, however, of keeping a college boy who wants to play professional baseball from doing so.

The worst offenders against any ethics that there might be in tampering with college stars are not the major league club owners. They are the managers of semi-pro and independent teams.

Hornsby Tops 400 Mark for His Third Season

Rogers Hornsby, pilot of the St. Louis Cardinals, has taken his place in the baseball hall of fame as one of a trio of major league stars who, for three years, finished the season with a batting average of about .400.

Hornsby's mark for 1925 was .403, which enabled him to join ranks with Jesse Burkett, famous member of the old Cleveland Nationals, and Tyus Raymond Cobb, fiery leader of the Tigers.

Hornsby, in 1922, batted .401. In 1924 he established a modern high mark of .423. In 1923, although champion of the National league, he hit only .384.

Burkett made his marks in 1895, 1896 and 1899. Cobb led his league in 1911 and 1912 with a mark above the .400 and finished above this figure in 1922, although not leading the league.

In addition to capturing the 1925 batting honors, Hornsby is the home-run king of the major leagues with 39 circuit blows. He also had the highest total bases mark of 330.

Mathewson and Johnson as Opposing Pitchers

Did you ever know that the late Christy Mathewson and Walter Johnson, now the Senators' ace, ever opposed each other as pitchers in a game?

Well, they did, and it was in Joplin, Mo., not long before the World war, which by the way might well have been the "world's series." McGraw and his Giants were touring the "sticks" with a squad playing exhibition games. Joplin is not far from Coffeyville, Kans., and Coffeyville is where Johnson lived. It was agreed that Johnson and Mathewson should oppose each other. McGraw divided his squad of players into two teams, and the Big Train and Big Six went at it.

Each pitcher was allowed to pick his team. They went in after inning before practically the entire population of Joplin and Coffeyville, with no score. Matty's fade-aways against Walter's speed. It was recorded that Matty finally won by a one-run score.

Giants Obtain Ring in Deal With Philadelphia

The New York Giants have traded Wayland Dean, right-handed pitcher, and Jack Bentley, southpaw, to the Philadelphia Nationals for Jimmy Ring, veteran right hander. No cash was involved.

Dean was one of the leading pitchers of the Louisville club of the American association for three years prior to his purchase by the Giants for $50,000. Bentley was with Baltimore before joining the Giants.

Ring was a member of the Cincinnati team that won the world series in 1919 that resulted in banishment from baseball of several members of the Chicago White Sox team.

Ring won one game for his team during that series. Later he was traded to the Phillies.

Exit, Jimmy

The repast ended, the guests sat admiring the "antique silverware." The mantel clock chimed eight. "Well, mother," exclaimed Little Jimmy. "I guess I might as well go to bed. Mrs. Brown said if I couldn't bring her spoons back by eight o'clock I could wait until tomorrow morning."—Ziff's Magazine.

Mlle. Lenglen FADES AGAIN AS COMPETITOR

FRENCH STAR SAYS FATHER IS ILL. BARS HER FROM TENNIS

AGAIN SHUTS OFF COMPETITION WITH OUR HELEN WILLS

Cannes, France, Jan. 27.—(UP)—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, world's tennis champion, will not enter the singles competition in the Nice tournament starting Monday next and the prospects of a meeting with Helen Wills, American champion, are again deferred.

Mlle. Lenglen said she could not play in the Gallia tournament which started here Tuesday or the Nice tournament next week, because her father is seriously ill and her first duty is to remain near him until he had recovered completely.

After surviving a close match Monday against Mlle. Didi Vlasto in the final of the Metropole championship, Miss Wills said she was ready to play three matches in the opening round of the Gallia tournament. She will play singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

While she gave no outward indication of alarm when the game was going so badly against Mlle. Vlasto, the young American champion admitted to her mother after the match that she was worried.

"I need lots of practice," she said. The exhibition of strength and endurance that she gave in the second set, when she wore her opponent almost to the point of collapse, caused some of the critics to qualify their doubts that she would have a chance in a match against Mlle. Lenglen.

The French star always has won her matches in so few games that she is anything but a distance player and she is not nearly as strong physically as the American girl.

COL. RUPPERT BANKS ON YANKEE TEAM

SAYS NEW YORK IS SURE SHOT TO WIN OR PLACE

IF BALL PLAYERS LIVE UP TO FORM, YANKEES TO BE FAST

ALSO HARDEST HITTING AND YOUNGEST IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Jan. 27.—New York is a sure shot to win or place in the American league pennant race, in the opinion of Col. Jake Ruppert, millionaire owner of the former champions.
"If ball players live up to form we will have the fastest and hardest hitting club in the league and also the youngest because the boys can't hide their years," the Colonel said today.

In recent years, during which there was much criticism, the club under the management of Miller Huggins, had a flare for finished ball players who didn't have to be told what to do in a pinch.
Some of the players mobilized under the Yankee owner were so finished that they wouldn't do what they were told in any kind of emergency.

Just after the start of the 1925 season the whole team went to pieces. Babe Ruth was on his back in a New York hospital, Wally Pipp went bad on first base and Deacon Scott at shortstop.

Miller Huggins had few reserves and he was forced to stick Buster Gehrig, a former Columbia University star, in at first base and use

Pewee Wanninger, a rookie, at shortstop in place of the iron man, Scottie. "We've been looking around since then," Col. Ruppert said, "and we've signed up a lot of young fellows."
"Miller Huggins can place them as he wants them but I figure that he will not have much trouble making his decisions. Gehrig is a good first baseman now and he ought to develop into a great star."

"Joe Dugan, with his trick knee cured, is the greatest third baseman in baseball and I've seen Pie Traynor enough times to be entitled to an opinion."

"For the middle of the infield, Huggins will have Tony Lazzeri, the home run king of the minor leagues, Mark Koenig, Ernie Ward, Mike Gazzella and young Adams who recently came from Washington."

"The outfield, of course, is solid with Bob Meusel, Earl Combs and Babe Ruth. We're expecting a lot from the Babe this year and all I have to say is that he had better deliver. If he doesn't I'll have something more to say."

LOCALS PLAY LITTLE FALLS HERE FRIDAY

SEVERAL MEN ELIGIBLE FOR PLAY WITH START OF SEMESTER

BRAINERD TEAM OUT TO AVENGE 22-20 DEFEAT AT LITTLE FALLS

The Brainerd high school team will line up against their traditional rivals from Little Falls on Friday evening at the local gymnasium. This game is one for blood, as the down-riverites came from behind in the closing minutes of play three weeks ago to nose out a 22-20 victory, after the Brainerd team had piled up an eight point lead. The former game stays in the minds of the local players as a stinging affront to their ability to hold an advantage once gained, and fans who attend Friday night will see a team determined to wipe out the memory of that last game.

Along with this change of mind, or rather setting of mind on an object to be gained, comes the glad news that the first semester of the school year now closed has graduated several ineligible to the rank of eligibles, and several new faces may be seen on the line-up of the Brainerd team. Two of the most promising are Lowe and DeRoche. These two have both been through the thick of many battles, and are no novices at the court game. Lowe played two years ago, and was one of the most promising of that year's team. Ineligibility kept him off the team last year. He is making a strong bid for the position of running guard.

DeRoche is threatening to oust Tribur from his post at back guard. Other players who have hurdled the scholarship obstacles and are eligible to take part are Koop, Walter Hau-tla, and Frank Wise.

The team deserves the support of all fans in the city. This is the last high school game to be played here until Feb. 26. Adams of St. Cloud will referee, and a fast game is assured. There will be a preliminary game also.

COBB, SPEAKER AND COLLINS ON HONOR ROLL

AMERICAN LEAGUE COMMITTEE CONSIDERS THEM AS MOST VALUABLE PLAYERS

ALL THREE HAVE BEEN OUTSTANDING STARS FOR 20 YEARS

Chicago, Jan. 27.—(UP)—Denied the privilege of being voted the most valuable players because they are managers, the names of Tyrus Raymond Cobb, Tristram Speaker and Edward Trowbridge Collins today were on the honor roll of the American League and by special action of the valuable player committee.

All three have been outstanding stars for almost twenty years and at one time or another have won the "most valuable player" trophy. It is only during the recent years that the award has been recognized by the league and considering the managers are barred, it was feared that the names of the three stars would not get on the roll. The committee met and decided that since Cobb was awarded the Chalmers trophy in 1911, Speaker in 1912 and Collins in 1924, their names are eligible for the baseball hall of fame, along with those of George Sisler, George Herman Ruth, Walter Johnson and Roger Peckinpaugh, who are already on the honor roll.

ROTARIANS VISIT NEW POWER PLANT

Accept Invitation of Shop Superintendent Anderson to Inspect New Unit

100 PERCENT MEMBERS LIST

Nine Members Have Perfect Attendance Record Since Joining

The Rotary club Tuesday accepted the invitation of Superintendent J. P. Anderson of the local railway shops to inspect the new power plant of the Northern Pacific here. Mr. Anderson made a statement to the club previous to their trip, that in the month of December, 1925, the new power plant made a saving of $5,100 in fuel alone, and then he continued his description of improvements made:

Basement

Coal is brought up incline by switch engine and dumped into concrete hoppers of which there are two, with a capacity of 200 tons each. Below concrete hoppers coal passes to shifting table which supplies traveling conveyor that carries coal to coal crusher, from the coal crusher, coal drops to traveling conveyor that takes it to overhead bunkers. It is carried by gravity through swinging spouts to hoppers in front of boilers and is fed to Harrington traveling grate stokers. The operator of coal handling machine is able to start and stop the machinery from three different points by pushing a button. This is a safety precaution and also ease of handling. Storage capacity of concrete hoppers and overhead bunkers is about 100 tons.

Ashe

The ashes drop from stoker grates into ash hoppers, located in basement. These hoppers have doors in bottom which are opened and closed by compressed air and ashes are dropped into cars located below hoppers. There is a spray of water in ash hopper which cools ashes and keeps down dust. There is no handling of coal or ashes by manual labor in the plant. In the second section of the basement is located the water, air and low pressure steam piping. All exhaust and low pressure steam is passed through an oil separator before going out through steam heating mains. In the third section of the basement under engine room are located, the fire pump, condenser and condenser pumps, gland water tank and gland water pump. There is also in this section a room partitioned off where all high voltage wires leaving the building are placed as also the controllers for power generators. All high voltage wiring is located in the entire plant so that only men who have experience can get at them. From the basement there is a stairway to both boiler and engine rooms. The entire stairways and platforms in the building are Irving subway type, which are considered the safest made. Special attention has been given to make everything as safe as possible in the entire plant. Special attention has also been given to ventilation of the building.

Boiler Room

In the boiler room there are four six hundred horse power Badenhausen vertical tubular boilers with an overload capacity of fifteen hundred horse power each. Harrington chain grate stokers are used with both forced and induced draft. The chain grates are operated by small upright engines and blower fans by steam turbines. The boilers operate on both forced and induced draft. Stoker engines, draft fans and dampers at stack are handled automatically. As the pressure of steam increases the fans slow down and draft decreases, stoker engines slow down and feed less coal and dampers close. The water is fed to boilers automatically, keeping a certain level of water in the boilers. If for any reason the water gets too high or too low, an alarm whistle blows until condition is normal again. Water is fed to boilers by centrifugal pumps running at 3600 revolutions per minute. There is also a reciprocating pump that can be used if wanted. Temperature of feed water is 213 degrees. On the front of the boilers are instruments showing the steam pressure, boiler horsepower each boiler is developing and draft gauges showing the air pressure that is being used. There are five places under the traveling grates where air pressure can be applied and pressure can be regulated. At the back of the boilers, instruments are located showing the gases escaping to stack, temperature of gases escaping and pressure of draft at damper. This enables the firemen to know just what his boilers are doing in burning the fuel. By opening a valve at side of boiler, the soot is blown down from the tubes automatically. Steam leaves the boilers through an automatic valve that in case of a broken tube in the boiler, closes the valve automatically and prevents steam from other boilers escaping through break and in case of a broken steam main in any part of the plant, causing a sudden flow of steam from boilers, the valves on all the boilers in operation will close.

Engine Room

There are two air compressors in the engine room, one 4000 cubic foot uniflow steam feather valve. This is the largest air compressor in the northwest and only one larger in the country. Another of 600 cubic feet for night loads when the shop is not operating. There are at present two turbine-driven power generators, with foundation for the third which will be moved from the old power plant. This will give us 1,550 kilowatt capacity. The 750 K. W. unit is a mixed pressure turbine running condensing. This machine will operate either high or low pressure steam or both. In warm weather when we are not using the steam exhaust from other machines, it will be used to operate this turbine at three pounds pressure and will mean a great saving in fuel.

There is a 15-ton traveling crane in the engine room which is used in making repairs to machinery.

The switch board for power distribution is of a special design and has several new features. It was designed by Fred Reid, chief electrician of the N. P. Ry. Co., and is considered one of the safest and complete ever built by the Westinghouse Electric company. It is divided into twelve panels, six for control of power generators and exciters and six for control of power distribution to various departments of shops.

Each department is separately metered, so that power consumption can be charged direct.

The members of the club were shown by chart on the wall of the meeting room how the club members attended the meetings during the last year. The number of absences of each member was indicated. Those who did not miss a meeting during the year are S. R. Adair, J. P. Anderson, G. W. Chadbourne, Walter Cobban, Alfred Dillan, Al Ebert, Chris Erickson, A. E. Hagel, R. R. Gould, John Hoffbauer, Chas. Hoffman, Karl Hoorn, Levi Johnson, Mons Mahlum, H. F. Michael, Geo. LaBar, Rev. N. P. Olmsted, Wm. Spencer and A. G. Trommald. Nine members have a perfect record of attendance since the time they became members of the club, S. R. Adair, J. P. Anderson, Alfred Dillan, A. E. Hagel, R. R. Gould, Charles Hoffman, Levi Johnson, Geo. D. LaBar and Rev. N. P. Olmsted.

Levi Johnson gave a short address on the last four objects of Rotary. The club bade farewell to E. O. Webb, who left yesterday for a trip south, which will take him to Central America.

$60,000 SOUGHT IN UNIQUE WAY

Northwestern Hospital to Seek Loans Underwritten by Insurance

P. R. HOOS DIRECTOR

$107,37.40 Debt Liquidated Since August 14, 1925. Volume of Business Great

The Northwestern hospital, now operated by the Protestant Churches Hospital association, is starting a new and somewhat unique method of retiring the remainder of the indebtedness of the institution, according to P. R. Hoos, financial director.

In brief the plan as stated by Mr. Hoos is to secure loans in the aggregate sum of $60,000, without interest, the repayment of these loans to be secured to the lender or his estate by an insurance policy in the New York Life Insurance Company. The loans are to be in sums of $250 and upward, payable if preferred in five annual payments.

Every loan made to the hospital as stated by Mr. Hoos will thus be underwritten, or guaranteed, by this insurance company. Upon payment of the first annual amount, the insurance policy will be issued, with the hospital will pay the premiums. If the insured should die before the full amount of his loan has been paid in, the hospital will repay to his heirs the full amount of the loan already paid in. After the loan has been paid in full, the policy will have as beneficiary anyone the lender wishes to name.

Under this plan, as stated by Mr. Hoos a loan made to the association is fully backed by one of the largest insurance underwriters in the United States.

From the time the Protestant Churches Hospital association took over control of the hospital, August 14th, 1925, to January 2, 1926, a period of less than five months, a total of $107,667.40 net has been liquidated, according to the financial report filed by E. A. Cooke, recent business manager. The present indebtedness amounts to $52,850.00. A large share of the claims were settled on a percentage basis, the amount of these claims being $45,118.31, and this amount was settled for $4,569.96. Other claims amounting to $5,384.75 were donated.

The association has adopted a financial plan which embodies the following hoped-for sources: five-year memberships, individual gifts, loans secured by insurance, insurance policies with the hospital as beneficiary, legacies, and income from the hospital.

An encouraging feature of the situation as shown by this report is the showing made by the institution during the last months of 1925. During November, there was an increase of 50 per cent over October, and during December an increase of 10 per cent over November. The month of December closed with the largest volume of business in the history of the hospital.

Many donations have been received by the hospital, including some gifts of money, linens, and canned goods and vegetables.

The hospital is fully equipped to care for all cases. The financial director, Rev. P. R. Hoos, is spending much time here at present getting the new plan of financing under way.

MRS. J. H. HERBERT AGAIN HEADS LEAGUE

N. E. Improvement League Names Richard Isle Vice President, Mrs. Kelly Treasurer

H. A. KAATZ RE-ELECTED SEC.

H. F. Michael and Frank Lowey Give Inspirational Talks at Tuesday Meeting

The Northeast Brainerd Improvement League manifested its confidence in its president, Mrs. J. H. Herbert, by again electing her to head the league, at the annual election of officers held last night at the Lowell school, attended by the largest number of the season.

Other officers elected last night were Vice President, Richard Isle; Secretary, Hugo A. Kaatz; Treasurer, Mrs. F. M. Kelly and directors, Albert O. Anderson, and Oscar E. Swanson.

A pleasing program was rendered which included a piano solo by Mrs. Edward Jorgenson; recitation, "From the Heights," by Roger Callahan; two mandolin selections by H. A. Kaatz, accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Doepeke; vocal duet by Misses Stanley and Shepherd; reading, "A Big Mistake," by Richard Isle; reading, "Christmas Eve in a Colorado Mining Camp," by Mrs. J. H. Herbert, and a talk by H. F. Michael.

Mr. Michael related the story of the discouraged farm owner of Africa who sold his farm not realizing the diamond values which had lain at his feet for years. He told also of the young geologist of northern Michigan who sold his holdings to another, who realized on them great wealth in copper. Mr. Michael related the story of a friend in his home town in Ohio who had visions of beautiful flower gardens and now owns some of the richest and most wonderful peony and iris gardens in the country.

What we in Brainerd need, said the speaker, is a spirit of unity and cooperation that will lead us to beautify our city and speak well for it.

"Brainerd has lost several opportunities in the past," said Mr. Michael, "because we have not had the vision to see and plan ahead." He called attention to the opportunity we now have for advertising Brainerd and our lakes by building a drive along the west shore of the Mississippi river connecting the Gull lake road with the Merrifield road. He urged citizens to get behind this move, as well as any move to establish more industries here. We need more support from the business men, who should be the leaders, said the speaker, and those who do take a lead in conditions and are giving their time and efforts for the betterment of Brainerd need the support of the people in general.

We do not live on this earth long, said the speaker, and God intended we should have a beautiful and good place while here, so after all it is not so much what we can get out of it ourselves, but what we can put into it, to make it a better place in which to live that really counts. "Let us put our shoulder to the wheel and develop the best in our city," was Mr. Michael's closing appeal.

County Commissioner Frank J. Lowey spoke on Federal Road No. 210, formerly known as Highway No. 2. The federal government considers this one of the most important roads of the entire system. As soon as No. 27 is completed from Little Falls he assured us the hearty cooperation of several organizations to have this road pushed to completion. The range towns are anxious to have the road built so as to shorten the distance to Brainerd and avoid the railroad crossings east of the city. He stated Engineer Walter M. Murphy will take the matter up personally with Mr. Babcock in St. Paul next week. The federal government has adopted the Minnesota designs of road markers for universal use.

Mr. Lowey spoke briefly on the matter of caring for the poor of the city. S. A. Stanley spoke briefly on the activities of the school board and said they were endeavoring to find some means to provide additional high school facilities. A resolution was adopted commending the Water and Light Board on the installation of the new street lighting system on the principal streets of the city.

Mr. Lange spoke on the coming drive of the Salvation Army. Committee appointments will be completed for the next meeting.

HAVE YOU A BAD BACK?

Then the Advice of This Brainerd Resident Will Interest You

Does your back ache night and day? Hinder work; destroy your rest? Are you tortured with stabbing pains? When you stoop, lift or bend? Then likely your kidneys are weak. More troubles may soon appear. Headaches, dizziness, nervousness; or uric acid and its ills. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills.

Read this Brainerd testimony. J. L. Bush, carpenter, 726 4th Ave., says: "I was stiff and sore across the small of my back. I had a steady, dull ache across my kidneys day and night. My kidneys acted frequently and the secretions were highly colored. I used Doan's Pills and they relieved me so I could get back to work again, feeling as well as ever."

The deceased was born at Darlington, Wis., on January 28, 1862, and was near his sixty-fourth birthday at the time of his demise. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Dora Huntley, and several children.

Mr. Huntley was a carpenter and has lived at Brainerd for several years. Two daughters, Mildred and Lou, are well known in Brainerd, having been employed in this city for some time.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

When a man goes out spear-fishing at one of our lakes, he usually feels pretty good toward everything if he catches one fish in the neck with one blow. S. E. Ringbretson thinks differently, the other day getting two fish on the spear at the same time. He sunk the points into a fourteen pound pickerel, and when he had cut it open, he found a 1½ pound whitefish inside.

Ole Stene, spearing at Gull lake, struck at a big pickerel, and just stunned it. A little while later the same fish came by half dead, and easing along on its side. Mr. Stene took another shot at it and brought it up.

NORTH LONG LAKE NEWS

The Daughters of the Soil entertained the community Friday night with a good program, lively songs and games, and delicious refreshments. Despite the cold the school was well filled and all seemed eager to return within a few weeks to enjoy another social time together. Mrs. William Hansen was chosen as chairman of a program committee from the adult members of the community and rumors are that her committee is already at work.

Friday night's program was as follows: Old Time Songs—The Audience. Portia's Speech (Shakespeare)—Georgia Thompson.

A talk on the work of the county nurse, by Miss Flora Ingelbretson. Vocal solo—Miss Adele Coffin, accompanied by Miss Mildred O'Brien.

Forest Conservation—E. H. Rhodes, local forest ranger. Vocal Solo—Miss Adele Coffin, accompanied by Miss O'Brien. Reading—Miss Dorothy Thabes.

Following the program the girls led in the singing of some mirth-provoking songs with ukulele accompaniment. We are indeed grateful to all those who helped to make the program a success. We are especially grateful to Miss Coffin, who gave up a trip she had planned to Duluth in order that she might be with us, and to Miss Mildred O'Brien who made our organ sound like a piano.

The Daughters of the Soil will meet next time at the home of Doris Olson on Saturday, Feb. 6th, at 2:30 P. M. Ruth Dillan has charge of the program. All girls are welcome.

School is closed for a few days as Miss Huntley has been detained at home by the serious illness of her father.

The Bible class held its first meeting Sunday afternoon. A good interest was shown. We hope for a larger attendance next Sunday.

Harry Sandberg of Richland, Wash., formerly of our community, was calling in the neighborhood Sunday.

Miss Adele Coffin of Deerwood was the week-end guest of Mary Hughes, COUNTRY COUSIN.

SEPARATE AIR CORPS OPPOSITION

Washington, Jan. 27.—(UP)—Secretary of War Davis' opposition to a separate air corps and the advocacy of such a branch of the national defense by Major-General Mason M. Patrick, head of the army air service, were brought before the house military affairs committee again yesterday.

Admitting that there was unrest in the army air service Davis advocated adoption of a bill embodying the Morrow board recommendations of increased uniform flying pay as the principal remedy for the aviation situation.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The house military affairs committee yesterday formally asked Major Patrick, army air service chief, to draw up and submit to it a bill carrying out his plans for a separate army air service similar in organization to the navy's marine corps.

The bill will be ready in a few days and the committee expects to call Col. Wm. Mitchell and many other aviation authorities, including, perhaps, Dwight Morrow, chairman of the president's air board to testify on the measure.

Let's Get This Straight-- What Jewett Means by a "New-Day" Car

It means a car with instant acceleration—a flashing "pick-up" that shoots you through traffic quick as thought.

But it means, also, equally quick "stopping"—the instant, unflinching, cushioned stop possible only with Paige-Hydraulic 4-wheel brakes.

It means, too, wider, freer, clearer vision than any former car has ever had—almost complete elimination of the deadly "blind spot."

It means an ease of steering and control that makes your car seem responsive more to your wish than to your touch.

It means an uncanny ability to slip into parking places unbelievably small.

It means a generous interior roominess—roomy comfort rivaling that of the biggest sedans. And it means, too, a quality Sedan, Paige-Built.

THERE have been speedy cars before this—economical cars—comfortable cars—easily steered cars—quickly accelerated cars—but until The New-Day Jewett there never was one car embodying every last one of these essential qualities! Three minutes after you take the wheel of this New-Day Jewett-Six—you'll know that Jewett, and only Jewett, has built such a truly new-day car!

GREAT NORTHERN REVENUE GROWS OVER YEAR 1924

NET RETURN HOWEVER IS BELOW MARK OF 5.75 PER CENT

LATTER CONSIDERED FAIR RETURN BY INTERSTATE COMMERCE BODY

St. Paul, Jan. 27.—(UP)—Although an increase in the Great Northern railroad's operative revenues during 1925 was shown over 1924, the return is still less than 5.75 per cent considered by the interstate commerce commission as a fair return, according to a preliminary annual report by Ralph Budd, president of the road.

Total operative revenues last year totaled approximately $114,900,000. In 1924 the revenues were $110,243,104.

Budd stated that the net railroad operating income for 1925 was $28,200,000 or 5.12 per cent of the property investment.

The railroad's 1925 balance or dividends and other corporate purposes approximated $21,300,000. The balance in 1924 was $17,941,600.

The preliminary report is to be mailed to stockholders with dividend checks February 1.

The report states that the aggregate return for the last five years are $45,300,000 short of the 5.75 per cent return fixed by the interstate commerce commission as a fair return.

"To say that the present situation is satisfactory because earnings are better than they were during the ruinous period would be very erroneous," the report continues.

"If earnings were sufficient for a fair return on its property value Great Northern stock would sell above par, and that would be well for both the public and the railroad because it would permit some of the financial requirements to be met by the issue and sale of additional stock."

Pledge of Allegiance

Phonetically Rendered

Day after day the pupils in a certain school stood and solemnly recited the well-known pledge of allegiance. Then came a day when they were called on by the teacher to write the pledge. Here are two of the answers, said by the teacher to be typical:

"I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands. One nation in the visible, and for liberty and just for all."

"I pledge a legion to my flag and to the republic for riches stand one nation invisible with liberty and just for all."

A similar perversion of phonetics is reported by a Miss Murphy, who teaches school in a Massachusetts town. Each day the children recited the Twenty-third psalm. One day a pupil was selected to recite the gem alone. Came the passage, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life . . ." His version was:

"Surely good Miss Murphy shall follow me all the days of my life . . ."

"Grenadier"

A grenadier was originally a soldier whose special duty it was to throw hand grenades. Grenade is from the French word for the eastern fruit, pomegranate, the small spherical explosive called grenade resembling the fruit in shape. Hand-grenades were used in the war in the Sixteenth century, but the word grenade was also from the first used to imply an explosive shell fired from a gun. These weapons were employed after 1600 by special troops called grenadiers. They became obsolete in the Nineteenth century, but the Japanese returned to their use in the siege of Port Arthur in 1904. They contained high explosives and were found to be effective. They were also used in the trench warfare in northern France in the World war, but were generally called trench bombs.

SHORTS REACH END OF ROPE

New York, Jan. 27.—(UP)—Temporarily at least shorts reached the end of their rope today in the matter of forcing liquidation of speculative stockholders. That the list has reached a sold out condition became increasingly evident when the market put forth formidable opposition to professional attempts to depress prices on a basis of the disappointment felt in trading circles over the non-appearance of an increase in the United States Steel corporation's quarterly payment to stockholders.

New maintenance of the special distribution at 50 cents which came after yesterday's close was used as a pretext for a vigorous drive in the early dealings which forced steel common to a new low ground for the week and brought about recessions averaging about a point in other industrial offerings. But offerings dried up as the reaction proceeded. After continuing their hammering tactics for an hour or so and finding they were not bringing out sufficient stock for covering purposes the bear crowd became nervous and started a retreat which gradually gathered momentum as the session progressed.

By the middle of the afternoon the shorts were bidding prices up on themselves at a rapid rate and those who had taken advantage of the recent recessions were in complete control of the situation.

The market closed higher.

Makers of History

Forgetful of Past

It was at Balahe that a shadowy guest called on the procurator of Judea, stayed to supper, even stayed (unlike Pilate, his host) for an answer to a casual question. Did he, the guest inquired, recall a Galilean of the name of Jesus . . . Jesus of Nazareth . . . crucified for some offense?

The old man frowned, groped in his memory, put a vague hand to his head and answered faintly, "Jesus, Jesus of Nazareth? I do not remember."

That exquisite effacement of the past is the perfect comment of an ironist upon the intelligence of historical characters. Is the opinion of Philip Guedalia, recorded in Harper's Magazine. Pilate, one feels, was not alone in this unawareness of his own significance.

How many figures, faced in Elysium with eager questions upon their supreme achievement, must murmur a vague, unsatisfying "I do not remember." It is so easy to miss the point of others that one may sometimes be forgiven for missing one's own—the more readily, perhaps, when it was a failure. For we may leave the memory of our failures to other people with perfect confidence. Posterity is never a tactful listener; and that side of our immortality will always be secure.

But these omissions often have a simpler cause. Sometimes deliberate, they are due quite frequently (Pilate's was such a case) to sheer inadvertence. The poor dears make history and never notice it; or they make it and then, like a posted letter, quite forget it.

Travels Made by Crabs

Crabs travel quite considerable distances. One marked specimen, liberated in Start bay, Devonshire, England, was later recaptured 60 miles away by Land's end fishermen.

Loses Its Efficiency

Gasoline allowed to stand for considerable time, even if it is in a tank, will lose its ignition efficiency.

How Skinny Kids Gain Weight and Strength

Everyone knows that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamins, is a flesh builder supreme. In children where rickets are suspected it even helps to build up the bones and strengthens the body.

But let us all be glad! The poor underweight, sickly, puny kids doesn't have to take the vile, nasty, oil itself any more for thanks to science McCoys' Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets has taken its place.

Sugar coated they are as easy to take as candy and if you will give them to your sickly child for thirty days, you'll be very happy indeed.

If you are not, H. P. Dunn or Johnson's Pharmacy and all druggists—but be sure and ask for McCoys' the original and genuine.

Give them to the sickly, frail child for 30 days, and if they don't help wonderfully, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.
